A year with unique challenges

While the year brought many unique challenges, CMP remained focused, helping vulnerable individuals across NYC. CMP helped a record 8633 individuals.

The year in review

While working with a record number of individuals in 2023, CMP sees the continued challenges of vulnerable New Yorkers who seek culturally competent and language accessible programs and services to provide them with increased skills, confidence and connections to new networks.

Summer Highlight

Summer brings opportunities for over 1,000 youth to participate in the SYEP, summer camp, and Saturday programming. Students continue to take English classes. Clients continue to receive assistance with workforce and entrepreneurship

Autumn Highlight

All programs continue in full swing after the summer. Highlights include a virtual Job Fair, the start of our entrepreneurial boot camp, and others.

Winter Highlight

The community continues in classes and participating in various webinars. The holidays also bring opportunities for new Americans to experience a season by participating in trips to NYC cultural institutions and traditions.

Spring Highlight

Spring brought the return of our in person Job Fair in Flushing hosted by the Flushing YMCA. CMP held a gala celebrating Breakthrough Leaders: Steve Chen, Crystal Windows & Doors, Jeffrey Kwan, Canal Sound & Lighting, Jeffrey Lam, Lam Generation, and Yvonne Tsang, eRxCity & Prosperity Enterprises, and Andy Wang, Franchisee BonChon Chicken.

We couldn't have done it without your generous support.

Thank you!

Programs and services could not be provided without the support of our generous donors, leadership and governance of the Board of Directors, competent and skilled staff, and our volunteers.

CMP will continue to serve the community in its fifth decade. While we wait for our new home to be rebuilt at 70 Mulberry, please visit us at 55 Chrystie Street. We look forward to seeing you!
